

Nova Fabrica is a web development agency specialized in delivering custom, scalable solutions using Ruby on Rails, PHP, SQL, and related technologies. We work side-by-side with our clients to design, develop, and implement innovative solutions to suit their individual needs.

PROCESS

We begin by reviewing existing operating procedures and evaluating our clients' current and future needs. We then translate those requirements into concrete strategic and technical solutions to expedite workflow, improve communication, and enhance productivity.

SERVICES

Our broad range of custom solutions include elegant, powerful, and easy-to-use applications that include e-commerce, content and event management, client and portfolio presentations, and blogs, forums and social networking applications.

We offer a wide range of technical design solutions to address our clients' needs, including:

- Data Modeling and Database Design
- User Interface Design
- Project Management
- Deployment
- Code Review
- Ruby on Rails
- PHP
- SQL
- JavaScript/AJAX
- XML
- HTML/CSS

Committed to excellence in our craft, we're as passionate about great design as we are about delivering elegant, robust technical solutions. Our team takes great pride in maintaining strong, ongoing relationships and guiding our clients through all phases of production – from discovery and development to deployment and beyond.
